Modern Democracy.

Modern "democracy" swears by Jefferson, but does not follow that departed statesman. Jefferson was especially an advocate of liberty, while modern democracy worships slavery. Jefferson appreciated the evils of slavery, but modern democracy praises that blessed institution, in word or deed. Jefferson not only wished all white men free—all men being created equal, according to his immortal Declaration—but wished that slavery could be abolished both for white and black. Modern Democracy not only does what it can to rivet the fetters of the black, and perpetuate and extend the slavery of that race, but, in this late day, dares to speak of enslaving white men.

The New York Day Book is a thoroughly "democratic" paper, differing only from its fellows in that its conductors would carry out their principles into action, and, being willing to help negro slavery, as a blessing to the country, are also willing to extend its blessings to white men. The condition of many poor white men has lately exercised the sympathies of this democratic Day Book, and its remedy for their troubles is set forth briefly in the following paragraph, taken from its columns:

> Sell the parents of these children into SLAVERY. Let our Legislature pass a law that who ever will take these parents and take care of them and their OFFSPRING, in sickness and health —clothe them, feed them and house them—shall be legally entitled to their services; and let the same Legislature decree that whoever receives these parents and their CHILDREN, and outain their services, shall take care of them AS LONG AS THEY LIVE.

Such is the humanity of this democratic press, the recipient of the patronage of the present democratic administration! Such its remedy for poverty! Sell the unfortunate, with their children, INTO SLAVERY!

Gov. Walker's Sincerity Tested.

People who read the "democratic" papers have seen therein a great many praises lavished upon Robert J. Walker, who was to crown himself with an immortal wreath by "pacificating" Kansas. As Calhoun won the title of the Nullifier, Benton of the Expunger, and Webster of the Expounder, so Walker was to go down to a grateful posterity as the Pacificator. His partizans represented his course as one of entire impartiality and especial fairness. He was to [illegible] sure, Walker acknowledged that he could not help the people at all at the late election for the Convention, but they must submit to the Register's Law; but he assured them, 'pon honor, that he intended that they should have fair play at the polls. The Free State men took no part in that election, not being allowed to vote, by the rules taken by the Registers to leave their names off the lists. The Convention met, and among its first acts imposed dual a was that of apportioning the Territory into Legislative Districts.

Now, here came a difficulty. If the Convention made an unfair apportionment, Walker was pledged to the eyes to veto it. If the apportionment was left entirely to Walker, his Border Ruffian friends would demand that he should for go his fairness, and he would be in a dilemma. So a brilliant stroke of Legislation was made. A bill passed providing that the Governor and Secretary should make the apportionment, but, if they failed to do it, two persons, leading Border Ruffians,—the President of the first Council and Speaker of the first House, notoriously chosen by intruding Missouri votes, were to make the apportionment!

And here Gov. Walker had the best possible opportunity to exhibit his fairness, by making a really just apportionment. But such was not the programme. As was doubtless intended beforehand, Walker neglected the business, and the two Border Ruffians made haste to perform it; and this is their way of doing it:—The Council consists of 13 members, and the House of 39. Out of the whole number of Representatives, fourteen counties have 36, and nineteen counties 3; and these nineteen counties, with one-twelfth of representation, embrace the whole territory south of the Kaw river, except five counties; and still further two-thirds of the Free State emigration of the present season has gone into the disfranchised region. To sum up the grand total of swindling, five counties on the Missouri border, Doniphan, Atchison, Leavenworth, Lykins and Linn, control both branches of the Legislature.

But this apportionment is legal—our democratic friends will say—and the Free State men must obey it—must recognize it—must come and vote under it.

Perhaps they will, but we have our doubts upon the subject.

Meanwhile, Gov. Walker, the great would-be Pacificator, has covered himself with contempt, and his wreath of immortality is nowhere.

PITY THE AFFLICTED.—It is a good maxim, and we act upon it. We had prepared an article in reply to the News' last assault upon us, but the following paragraph from yesterday's issue of that paper disarms us entirely:

WINE AND POLITICS.—A friend in St. Louis sends us a box of what he terms "Border ruffian wine" and in his note, accompanying it, says: "We are now fearing that our Democratic candidate for Gove nor is defeated;" and then, as if recollecting that Charles Lamb said, "Damn politics, they spoil drinking," he adds: "But at all events, drink of the wine—remembering your friends and forgetting your enemies." If it will gratify our friend to know that his wishes will be most religiously respected, we bid him be of good cheer, for it is our intention to "take a glass standing" in a certain contingency, and to drink some in any event.

We forbear while our cotemporary is drinking solemnly in its Border Ruffian wine to the memory of Pro Slavery Democracy in Missouri, and burying its dead hopes.

TRAVELLERS' DIRECTORY BY THE MILWAUKEE AND MISSISSIPPI R. R. LINE.—We have received a neat pamphlet of 16 pages, of convenient size for the pocket, just prepared for general circulation, by A. B. ELLIOTT, the general Eastern agent of the Milwaukee and Mississippi R. R. It furnishes much valuable information to travellers, and will aid materially in bringing the advantages of the route to the knowledge of eastern people, about to travel to the northwest.

Railroad Law.

The Court of Appeals, New York, has laid it down as a rule of law that an individual, on approaching a railroad track, is bound to look if a train is approaching. It holds that railroads are among the best improvements of the great age of progress, and their permanent affairs are not to be postponed to the concerns of individuals. It holds that no one has a right to cross a railroad track without first taking every precaution for safety. The same reason that holds railroad companies to the strictest responsibility to the passengers, imposes upon every one who crosses the track of these great public thoroughfares, more than ordinary care not to jeopardize the lives of those who are availing themselves of the benefit of this great modern improvement in the mode of travelling.

In a recent suit against the Illinois Central Railroad, a passenger who had not purchased a ticket offered a bill for $100 to pay his fare, amounting to $1,55. The conductor refused to exchange it, and ordered the man to leave the train. He did so, but sues for damages. The decision is to the effect that the offer of so large a bill, with the expectation of so much change, was not a legal tender of the fare; and that on his refusal to pay fare, the plaintiff was liable to removal from the train, but without unnecessary force. Nor is the conductor compelled to take the person refusing to pay, to any station, but may put him off at once, wherever the train may be.

The Supreme Court of Cuyahoga Co., Ohio, has recently decided that a passenger who loses his ticket cannot require a Railroad Company to pass him over their road without purchasing another. The ground for the decision is that the ticket being negotiable by delivery, any one picking the lost ticket could ride upon it, hence the company would be subjected to frequent impositions. In this case it was held, too, that the company have a right to make all reasonable rules and regulations for the benefit of the public and their own protection, and that the ticket agent, having sold a ticket to the plaintiff, the latter was obliged, if he rode, to give it to the conductor; if not, they had the right to eject him from the cars.

Many a time, during last winter and spring, and the present summer, have we "carefully scanned" your columns to find any allusion to our articles and paragraphs concerning the progress and condit on of the Sh. boygan & Mississippi Rail Road enterprise, but the scanning of a sheet of blank paper would have rewarded our search as well. And furthermore, we have heretofore alluded to this fact on two or three occasions, but the Sentinel was, to all appearances, in blissful ignorance of the fact that such a place as Sheboygan, or such a paper as the TIMES existed.

The above, with more of the same sort, is, of course, from the Sheboygan Times. We have only to say that no single item, published in the Sheboygan papers, has, we believe, escaped being transferred to our columns. We may be careless, sometimes, as to some of our exchanges, but a naturally quarrelsome and snarling fault finding cotemporary, like the Times, is always attended to. "Alluded to" it! Of course you have—in about every number; and the Sentinel has gone on as usual, making what dry picking it could from the Times.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.—The Madison Argus some time ago suggested the name of L. C. DRAPER, the present Secretary of the State Historical Society, for State School Superintendent. We should be very sorry to lose Mr. Draper from his present post, and are not at all sure that his qualifications are just what are needed for the other.

The Dodge Co. Citizen says:

> We have been shown a circular sent out by Mr. Draper to the town Superintendents, in which he gives a history of his life, and assurances of his fitness for the office to which he aspires—and if we know anything about the qualifications required in a School Superintendent, we must say that by his own showing, Mr. Draper is sadly deficient. Besides, how it looks for a candidate who expects a nomination from a political party, to send circulars about the State to school officers, with a newspaper puff attached, in the hope of securing their favor!

☞ "The Republic" is the title of a new Republican paper to be started in Washington, D. C., the first part of next month. Its Editor is Mr. WESTON, from Maine, assisted by Daniel R. Goodloe, of North Carolina, both able writers. The veteran Editor, F. P. Blair, heartily endorses the project and the Editors. The paper will be issued weekly and semi-weekly at first, but will probably grow into a daily.

	Acres.
Apples, bus.		175
Barley "	150	3,012
Corn "	1200	35,825
Oats "	900	38,400
Potatoes "	82	10,961
Wheat "	2,805	39,444
Butter, lbs		27,257
Cattle on hand		1,270
Hogs slaughtered		5,430
Horses on hand		333

☞ From the report of the Railroad statistics of the United States, made to Congress by the Secretary of the Treasury, it appears that the passenger business on the New Jersey Railroad is greater than that of any other road in the country, the number of passengers carried one mile being 3,83,604, or nearly one million of passengers for the whole road; while the New York Central Railroad, which comes next, averages less than 3,000,000 for every mile.

NATIVES OF FRANCE AND ENGLAND.—The Washington Union of the 5th inst. contains a carefully prepared list of the navy of France, from which we learn that it is composed of 317 sailing vessels, carrying 6,176 guns, and 220 steamers, carrying 4,901 guns—making a total of 537 vessels and 14,077 guns. According to the navy list of Great Britain for 1856, the effective force of that country was 269 sailing vessels, carrying, 9,362 guns, and 258 steamers, with 4,518 guns—making a total of 527 vessels and 13,880 guns. It will thus be seen that the navy of France exceeds that of Great Britain by 10 vessels and 197 guns.

NEW YORK CANALS.—The Buffalo Commercial says that the aggregate of the tolls on the canals to the 1st of August are only $66,000 less than last year, in spite of frequent breaks, late opening, and railroad competition, and predicts that a handsome increase will be shown when the year's business is summed up.

A DISTINGUISHED CARGO.—A ship which is about to sail from England to Australia, carrying 400 convicts, takes among them Sir John Dean Paul, Strahan, and Bates the fraudulent bankers, R bson, the Crystal Palace forger, Redpath, who committed the great robbery on the Great Northern Railway, and several others of the same class of men.

☞ Port Gibson having been abandoned as a military post, the War Department has issued orders to surrender it to the Cherokee nation, in accordance with the terms of the treaty of 1836. It is the intention of the Cherokees to lay off a city on the site.

LOSSES BY FIRE AT CHICAGO.—The total amount of the losses by fire at Chicago in the year ending May 1st, 1857, was $662,000, on which was insurance to the amount of $385,100.

JAIL ROOMS TO LET.—We hear by the Sheboygan Times that the Jail in that city has been tenantless, except for the Sheriff, since the 17th of March. They speak well for the city.

SENATOR RUSK.—The Baltimore Sun has the following concerning the probable cause of the suicide of the distinguished Texan:

> "It is supposed that the mind of the Senator has been much disturbed lately in consequence of some alleged connection of his brother in law with forgeries on the Land Department. The latter, it is surmised, preyed upon him to such an extent as to induce this terrible result."

CHEAP POSTAGE IN LONDON.—As the result of cheap postage, and still more especially of regular and frequent delivery, it is said that in the last 10 years the people of London wrote and sent by post 82,000,000 more letters than the people of the entire United States, while the population of London is less than 2,500,000, and that of the United States more than 25,000,000. And of these 980,000,000 letters posted in London, more than 490,000,000 of them were for local circulation within the bounds of London.—The people of the city of New York have not sent by post one-tenth of 400,000,000 letters in ten times ten years. The entire number of "local" or "drop" letters in the United States, in 1854, was officially reported at 715,428, or less than three quarters of a million.

SUN FLOWER PAPER.—Near Edith, S. C., a crop is about to be gathered of four acres of sunflowers. The seed will be used for oil and to feed cattle and poultry, as in the south of France; but the chief object is to obtain the fibres of the stalk for paper making. If the cultivation succeeds, it is expected to supply abundant material for fine writing and printing paper, as well as fine and coarse paper for hanging.

☞ The Queen of Oude has waited 9 months in England, vainly attempting to obtain an interview with Queen Victoria. Since the news of the East India mutiny, the palace doors were opened to her. The Eastern Queen was attired with a magnificence that quite eclipsed the modest costume of the Island Queen.

A BENEVOLENT OFFER.—The following is said to be an accurate copy of a private circular sent by a certain Wall street firm to parties who contemplated starting a Bank in this State. It tells its own story. If our Banking Law, or the practice of bona-fide banks, allows such operations to go on, it is time that some action was taken to stop them:

> NEW YORK, no—, Wall street, July 2, 1857.
>
> DEAR SIR:—Understanding from some of your friends—now on a visit to this city—that you are desirous to establish a bank under the free bank law of Wisconsin, we take this opportunity to offer you our services to forward your views. Having had great experience, within the past five years, in "getting up" banks in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and even in Wisconsin, under the free banking laws of those states, we are quite sure your interests would be served by employing us to get in operation one for you.
>
> Without wishing or designing to disparage our neighbors, (some of whom are engaged in the same business,) we would say, that to make a bank move on successfully, there is much wisdom to be displayed in its organization, which has not been displayed by those we have alluded to; for out of 43 they were instrumental in "getting up" in Indiana, 41 have failed; while of those we have got up, (27) only 14 have failed. We have made it our particular study to organize "free banks," and hence our great success; and if parties who desire to "get up" banks, will be governed by the advices we give, (in our private circulars,) there is no danger, but the projector of the bank will make money and it is to the projector's interest we only look.
> It will, sir, cost you but little to get up a bank with $100,000 capital, secured by stocks. With the addition of the redeeming fee, $2000, as above mentioned, about $3000 for plates and notes, and $5000 placed in our hands as a margin for the $100,000 stocks, we can manage to put it in successful operation. Yours, respectfully,
> O. P. Q.

THE ROW AT CHILTON.—The aged Attorney General seems, by the account given by the Commissioners, to have borne himself like a hero at Chilton. The Madison Journal says:

> Among all the conflicting accounts of the "Chilton Outrage," none contradict the first report in regard to the pugilism and prowess of the venerable Attorney General; and, it is said, that he would certainly have exterminated his Milesian antagonist had not one of the clerks, anxious to prevent the effusion of naval ichor, and regardless of the danger of coming within "the wind of such commotion," rushed up behind the gallant veteran just as he was about dealing one of his jolliest right-handers, seized him around the waist, dexterously throwing him across his shoulders, and, as Æneas did from the flames of Troy the old Anchises bear, hurried him, indignantly kicking, sprawling and remonstrating, against the proceeding, away from the conflict.

Profitsel Western Farming.

As an instance of the way in which our Western farmers make those rapid fortunes which are the astonishment and envy of their less fortunate brethren of the Eastern States, we give the following brief history of the fortunes of WM. F. PORTER, Esq., of this county. Mr. P. purchased, about one year since, six hundred acres of land, lying within five miles of this city. One hundred and fifty acres thereof are under cultivation this year. Four acres of vegetables, for the city market, will, it is estimated, pay all the expenses of the farm for this year; forty acres of sowing will yield him at least 1500 bushels, At $3 per bushel, - - - $4,500
Wheat, barley, oats, potatoes, &c., - 4,500

Total net profits, - - - $9,000

These estimates are probably low, as they are based upon the amounts offered for his crops as they stand, unharvested and untouched.

Mr. P. intends to put at least half the whole farm under cultivation next season, when, of course, his profits, if the season be a favorable one, will be at least doubled. His farm buildings are as good as may to be found in the State, and when a few years more have passed away he will be prepared to net a large profit for fruit, &c., which requires time to repay the labor of the husbandman.

Mr. P. is a model farmer, not a weed being visible upon his improved lands, and all his fields, fences, farming implements and buildings being as neat as intelligent labor and care can keep them. He is from Boston, Mass., originally, and brings with him a large share of that thrift intelligence and enterprise which is the boast of New England.

In addition to his profits for farming, his lands have increased nearly or quite one hundred per cent, in value since he purchased them, less than eighteen months ago. This is the way we make fortunes out West!—Madison Journal.

☞ Two years ago our State government was but partially renovated, and that was done through the interference of the courts, and by a successful exposition of the enormous frauds which were perpetrated upon the people by democrats who had been in power until their corruptions had begun to be a by word. This fall we desire to see the whole party "cleaned out" by at least 15,000 majority, and it can be done with a good Republican ticket and a re-iteration of the principles of that party, if WORK and ORGANIZATION follow closely upon the convention. The pro-slavery party will work to preserve their very existence, and by all the slanders they can invent, will seek to drive the people into the support of their nominees. They will, also, as they do now, labor to get up divisions and dissensions in the Republican party, better to carry out their ends. All these efforts will, however, prove unavailing, if the Republicans act as they have acted heretofore—everything for PRINCIPLES.

To commence the campaign we hope to see all the primary conventions well attended by the Farmers and Mechanics—those who are so deeply interested in our success.—La Crosse Rep.

THE HARVEST.—It does one's soul good to ride through the country, and see the noble fields of golden grain that meet his eyes on every turn. "Never before has the crop been better," is the universal cry, and better times and more money, is the general expectation. In this country, we are now in the very midst of the harvest. The weather has been a little fickle, but nevertheless has been tolerably favorable—though we notice that some wheat is badly lodged. But the quantity is small, and we think that nearly or quite all the crop will be secured in a good condition. Oats is ripening fast, and some of it has already been gathered. The barley crop is nearly all secured, and is unusually large and fine.—The hay crop is unusually heavy. Corn, though a little backward, is rapidly gaining ground.—We think there will be more than an average crop. Potatoes promise a large yield and a healthy one, though a little rain after harvest would help them materially.—Dodge Co. Citizen.

CROPS.—The wheat crop in this county, is probably much better than ever before harvested. In the openings, some fields will come in rather light, but on the prairie it is decidedly good—corn will be a very fair crop—oats are also very good, and potatoes—except they were very early—will be a heavy yield. The hay crop is not as good as it was last year, but the farmers are mowing over more ground. We say to them cut all the hay you can.—Portage City Record.

☞ Mrs. Cunningham continues to be much grieved at the inhuman treatment alleged to have been received. She wept much this morning, exclaiming: "They've got Harvey's dear little pet of a daughter, and will not bring her back." Sad, very—and they were preparing the documents this morning to send the mother of this delusion to the Tombs.—N. Y. Mirror.

Sir Colin Campbell.

The following capital sketch of the military life of this brave old soldier, who has been sent out to save India for England, is from the New York Times:

He has been fifty years in the army, and has served in all quarters of the globe. So long ago as 1808 he was one of the forlorn hope at the storming of Badajos in the Peninsular War—an enterprise in which success was won by the loss of two thousand men out of the five thousand of which the storming party was composed, and all this in a breach not more than twenty feet wide. India, China, Australia, have all been, since Waterloo, the scene of services which place him among the first soldiers of the age. At Alma he led the Highlanders against the terraced batteries by which the slopes were lined, with a vigor which would have been admirable in a man of thirty, and was astonishing in a veteran of seventy. Dismounting from his horse, he put himself at the head of the brigade, sword in hand, in true highland fashion, took off his cap and waved on his men to the assault, shouting out in a way that revived a thousand memories of the old glories of the clans, "Follow, me my lads! None but Highland bonnets here!" and climbed the heights amidst a rain of shot, and entered the batteries with a rush. At Inkerman he was not actually engaged, owing to the fact that he was performing the important duty which he was left to discharge during the remainder of the winter, of protecting the town of Balaklava from all attacks on the side of Baidar, such as that of Gen. Liprandi on the 26th of October.

On that morning he performed, without of the Highland Regiments, an exploit which almost rivaled the charge of the Six Hundred, and which, if it was rash, at least proved the pluck of the man, no less than the confidence of the General. He received the first charge of the Russian cavalry—made before the Scots Greys had had time even to saddle their horses—in line, without even attempting to form a square, and repulsed them by three volleys, before they had approached within three hundred yards. Had the manœuvre not succeeded, he would, in all probability, have been tried by Court-martial for breach of the regulations; as it was he was gravely censured; but in war successful coldness is one of the tests of genius.

At the last assault on Sebastopol, after the attack on the Redan on the morning of the 8th of September had failed, his division was mustered to repeat the attempt at daylight on the following morning. It was composed of the flower of the British army, of the veteran troops who had marched up the slopes of the Alma—hommes des mamailles rouges," as ST. ARNAUD remarked—but who by their position at Balaklava had escaped most of the Winter hardships. The retreat of the Russians during the night deprived them of the glory of the trial, and, in all likelihood, saved Sir COLIN CAMPBELL for a more important duty. A month afterwards he assembled his division in a hollow square on the heights of Canara, rode into the centre and took a last farewell of them, and, as he then thought, of active service, in a simple and manly speech, which moved two-thirds of the men to tears. His fifty years of battle and storm were closed, and they and he, he said, would march and fight no more together. The remainder of his life he intended to spend in retirement, and the next trumpet which should rouse him would be the last that would ever sound.

His promised repose has been rudely broken in upon.

A Prize Fight Stopped, and Nineteen Rowdies Arrested; A Sharp Battle.

About 11 o'clock Saturday night Sergeant Coulter, Acting Inspector of the Twenty second Ward Police, received notice that a prize-fight was to come off in the upper part of the city about daylight—the party giving the information being unable to state any particulars of the locality of the anticipated brutal exhibition.

In order to prevent the consummation of the disgraceful affair, Sergeant Coulter sent his reserve force out for the purpose of watching the movements of the parties. He also sent for reinforcements from the Nineteenth and Twentieth Precincts, and held the men in readiness to make a descent upon the rowdies at a moment's warning. About 2 o'clock yesterday morning some of the reserve, who were watching along the Bloomingdale Road, conveyed word to the Station House that large numbers of persons were making their way to Lowe's Woods, a small patch of wood on the Eleventh avenue near Sixty fifth street. Several of the men were again sent out to reconnoitre, and ordered to join with the crowd and watch their movements. A few minutes before 3 o'clock the scouts returned with the information that the pugilists and their friends were on the ground, and that the ring was being built.

Sergeant Coulter at this time collected his force and at their head quietly marched toward the spot, arriving within a few yards of the crowd before the presence of the police became known. A charge was now made upon the ruffianly assemblage, which numbered between five and six hundred, the police moving on in steady and unbroken column, and behaving nobly throughout the action. The greater part of the crowd was soon routed, but a large number turned and commenced an attack upon the police.—Among the foremost of these was Daniel Fulton, a policeman of the Twentieth Ward under the regime of Mayor Wood. Fulton seemed to be the ringleader of the resistants, and cried out to his friends to come and "kill the d—d Black Republican s— of o—."

After a hard fight of nearly half an hour's duration the police gained the field, and succeeded in capturing nineteen of the party, whom they conveyed to the Station-House and consigned to the cells.—N. Y. Tribune.

A SCENE IN PARLIAMENT.—An English paper gives a lively description of the scene in Parliament when the attempt to repeal the Jewish Disability Bill was defeated. In the House there was decent gravity on all sides. In the strangers' gallery, however, there might have been heard curses, not loud, but deep; and dark eyes flashed, and swarthy complexions grew darker; while vehement gesture and angry rapidity of movement made the exit from the House rather dangerous to the less interested and less excited spectators in whose power it is to take any oath of any kind at the table of either House of Parliament. The roars stood in Alderman Salomon's eyes when he heard the result; but Baron Rothschild preserved that imperturbability of countenance which seems natural to him. When the news was communicated to Lord Palmerston, he was sitting with his arms folded and his legs stretched out under the table, and he did not alter his position in the least; a slight nod was all the notice he vouchsafed when he heard that his only great measure of the session had received its quietus. Lord John Russell must have had a negative triumph, for one of the objects of his life was again within his grasp, and he has lost no time in showing that he has not done with it, even for this year.

THE PEARL MANIA IN CONNECTICUT—THE WOODEN CLOCK STATE AGHAD.—New Jersey, Massachusetts and other States boast of their success in Pearl fishing. We beg them to understand, together with the rest of mankind, that Connecticut desires to be heard in this matter.—She, too, is a successful fisher of pearls; none of your small fry, but the large size brilliants.—Mr. Lewis R. Barnes, of East Berlin, has in his possession three pearls which he found in a mineral stream near his residence, a short time since. The most valuable one he brought to the city on Saturday for the purpose of showing it to his friends and ascertaining its value. He says that he has refused $200 for it, and that it has been variously estimated at from $200 to $500. It is an uncommonly fine specimen, as large as a good sized pea, perfectly round and smooth, in fact it is a perfect beauty. Mr. Barnes keeps his own secret as to the stream where he found the clams which contained the pearls.—Hartford Courant, Aug. 4

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS AS TO POST MARKS.—We notice that the postmark on letters mailed at the post office at Newport, bear the date of the year as well as of the month. This is a convenient, and may often prove a valuable identification. A post mark often becomes important legal evidence; and for this reason it is best that business letters should be folded in the old fashioned way, and not enclosed in envelopes; so that the postmark may be upon the letter itself, and show that it was mailed at the time that it purported to be.—N. Y. Mirror.

FROM MEXICO.—Our files from Mexico City, dated on the 15th of July, contain some additional news items, which we publish this morning. There was no doubt of Gen. Comonfort's re-election to the Presidential chair. The voting in the district of the city of Mexico was largely in his favor over many candidates. The best spirit prevails with respect to resisting an invasion on the part of Spain. The monthly exports of gold and silver were very large. General Negrete had defeated the insurgents under Vicairo.

BUILDING AT RACINE.—Never since the first settlement has there been more building going on in Racine than at the present time. Several building firms have told us that they have more work engaged than they can possibly attend to. This state of things must be gratifying to every one, and shows conclusively the rapid strides which our city is making in its onward march.—Journal.

☞ Two years ago our State government was but partially renovated, and that was done through the interference of the courts, and by a successful exposition of the enormous frauds which were perpetrated upon the people by democrats who had been in power until their corruptions had begun to be a by word. This fall we desire to see the whole party "cleaned out" by at least 15,000 majority, and it can be done with a good Republican ticket and a re-iteration of the principles of that party, if WORK and ORGANIZATION follow closely upon the convention. The pro-slavery party will work to preserve their very existence, and by all the slanders they can invent, will seek to drive the people into the support of their nominees. They will, also, as they do now, labor to get up divisions and dissensions in the Republican party, better to carry out their ends. All these efforts will, however, prove unavailing, if the Republicans act as they have acted heretofore—everything for PRINCIPLES.

To commence the campaign we hope to see all the primary conventions well attended by the Farmers and Mechanics—those who are so deeply interested in our success.—La Crosse Rep.

Foreign News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.

All the vessels comprising the expedition for laying the Atlantic Telegraph Cable had arrived at Cork.

A telegraph despatch from Cyrus W. Field, at Greenspoint, dated the 31st, states that the cable had been joined the evening previous, and a message sent through its entire length in less than a second. The shore rope was to be landed, and the vessels commence sinking the cable on the 3d or 5th inst., if the weather proved propitious. The Royal assent had been given to the bill incorporating the Company.

The race for the Goodwood Cup came off on the 30th. There were 14 entries, including the American horses Prior and Prioress, who came in 5th and 6th respectively.

The details of the Indian news reached London the evening of the 31st.

A letter from Madras dated June 27th stated that Delhi had fallen. At the last authentic account, which were to June 17th, Delhi was in possession of the insurgents, but it was generally believed, in London, that it had fallen.

The mutiny is wide spread, and appears to have off cted the whole Bengal army. 10,000 additional troops had been ordered to India—Great alarm prevailed at Calcutta, where it is feared the Mussleman population had formed the design of rising and taking possession of the city. The inhabitants kept themselves armed, and hotels and principal places were garrisoned by sailors belonging to ships in the river. Many Europeans had escaped.

CHINA.—On the 27th of May, 13 Junks were repulsed by the English. On the 5th of June 20,000 British force captured a Fort, and took or destroyed 127 Junks mounting over 900 guns with 9,000 men.

Fort Laramie dates to the 22d ult. are received. Col. Sumner had arrived at Sent's Fort, and would leave on the 13th for the headquarters of Republican Fork, in pursuit of the Cheyennes.

The California trains had all passed Laramie in good health.

McGaw's wagon road train was at Fort Kearney.

Col. Alexander's regiment and Spencer's battery, for the Utah expedition, met 225 miles west of Leavenworth. Another regiment was at Rock Creek; Captain Van Vliet at Cottonwood, and Reins' battery at Big Blue.

The Cheyennes are scattered over the entire route between Forts Laramie and Kearney—but little damage had been done to the trains, the Indians fearing to attack large parties. War had broken out again between the Crows and Sioux. Several surveying parties were seen, but nothing was heard of the murders reported last week.

There is nothing from Utah.

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT, AUGUST 12.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

J. Day, drunk, (21 offence,) fined $2.

Nicholas Reed was arrested for drunkenness, and charged with having said to the officer of being drunk, his reply was, "Shure and it's myself that don't no sir, whether I was dhrunk or no," from which it was to be inferred that Nicholas had taken "a dhrop too much of the crature." He was fined $1,00

Timothy Driscoll, is charged in a like manner, for which he was also fined $1,00.

LARCENY.—A hired girl named Johanna Walsh, was brought up on a charge of larceny in the dwelling of her employer in the 7th ward, and recognized in $250 bail, till further examination

STEALING A PICTURE.—Ernst Rese, was examined on a charge of stealing a picture, of the value of one dollar, from a man named Nicolleti, and found guilty. Rese said he was going along Huron street, in company with another man and his wife, and that this man took the picture from a nail on which it was hanging, and gave it to him to hide. This man's wife, however, swore that her husband did not take the picture. In either case Rese would be guilty of larceny, but as he was quite a young man, and of previous good reputation, Justice Walworth, instead of sending him before the Grand Jury as is usual in such cases, fined him $10,00 and costs.

COUNTERFEITERS.—A GANG IN THE CITY.—ONE OF THE RASCALS CAUGHT.—SEVERAL OF THE BIRDS FLOWN.—For several days past, it was suspected that a gang of counterfeiters had taken up their abode in this city, to dispose of a pile of their illegitimate bills, and some of the fruits of their operations had already come to light, in the shape of counterfeit bills on the Waynesburg Bank, Penn.

One of them, it seems, went into the clothing store of Messrs. Bremer, Pfeffer & Co., on the day evening, to buy a coat, and offered in payment one of those $20 counterfeit bills, which the clerk immediately detected as being such, and having heard that others of the same kind had been passed the day previous, he "got in a rage" and sent, or pretended to send, another clerk into the next door store to enquire whether the bill was good, but in reality he sent for a policeman, who took the fellow to the watch house. At precisely, or very nearly the same time, another of the gang went into another clothing store and offered a $20 counterfeit upon the same bank, in payment also for a coat which he bought, but owing to the contemptible cupidity of the store-keeper the villain escaped. The price of the coat which he bought amounted to seven dollars, we believe, and he told the clothier, who had expressed his suspicions of the bill offered, that he would pay him the amount in good money if he would send his clerk with him to the Louis House, where he said he was stopping. Upon getting there he told the clerk he would bring the money to the store as soon as a friend of his came in, whom he said was also stopping there. The clerk then went back to the store, taking the coat with him, and of course the rascal fled.—The police just then got wind of this matter, but the thief was non est inventus.

The one arrested gave his name as John Belden, and he was recognized by the clerk of the Louis House as the same whom he had seen in company with the other fellow in the tar-barn of that house during the day, but neither of them had eaten or slept there. As these fellows had but one bill each, it is quite evident that there was another, or others connected with them, who, no doubt, kept the "pile," while they did the financiering.—Active measures have been taken by the police to ferret out their whereabouts, and it is to be hoped that the defrauders may be brought to justice.

REMOVAL.—The Commercial Insurance Company have removed their office from Martin's Block to the new State Bank Building, on Michigan street. The new office is situated on the first floor, in the east side of the building, directly opposite the apartment used by the State Bank. It is a handsome, spacious and convenient office, as all the rooms in this elegant building are, and is furnished in a manner which displays great taste, both as to beauty and utility. The office is divided into two apartments, separated by folding doors, the front one being the business office, and the other the President's office.

The floors of both are covered with a rich carpet from the warerooms of Bradford brothers, and the furniture, consisting of some of the best finished oak desks, chairs and a handsome lounge, is from the establishment of J. F. Burchard, on Spring street. The gas fixtures are on a par with the furniture, and were put up by Messrs. M. G. Elmore & Co.

One of Berliner & Brandt's elegant safes is a feature in the office which nobody will overlook, and upon the whole we think this office equal for convenience to any in the city.

THE BLACK SWAN.—The concert of Miss E. T. GARDNER, at the Albany last night, was highly success ful. A large and appreciative audience attended, who expressed their admiration of this wonderful songstress, by the most unbounded applause, and as Miss. Greenfield was to give but one concert in this city, they seemed determined to make that as long as possible by calling upon her at the conclusion of nearly every song, and she of course responded most graciously, thus making her concert about twice as long as advertised.

We never heard the "Black Swan" before, but have heard a great deal about her, and we are now fully satisfied that she richly merits all that has been said in her praise. She possesses a wonderful voice—sweet, clear and remarkably flexible, and she enters into the spirit of the compositions which she renders in a manner which shows that she fully understands the design of the authors She is, beyond doubt a most extraordinary songstress, and notwithstanding her color a very queen upon the stage. Prof. G. H. Lawrence, pianist, did his part remarkably well

REAL ESTATE COMING UP—THE RIVER!—The river yesterday presented more the appearance of a Louisiana meadow of overgrown wild grass than a navigable stream. About twenty acres of the Menomonee marsh has broken loose within the past week, and floated up the river. It was impossible yesterday afternoon for vessels to pass either through the Menomonee or the Spring street bridge. The marsh now looks like a clear lake, and the river like a huge marsh.

P S—It is rumored that Caleb Wall intends applying to the Common Council to accept a subdivision which he is about laying out south of Spring street bridge, where the river used to be!

BEAUTIFUL PAPER HANGINGS.—Mr. Samuel Patrick is the agent for Ford & Fairbanks, booksellers, stationers and dealers in Paper Hangings, Milwaukee, has been inspecting the walls of the new rooms for the bank of Shepherson, corner of Jefferson street and Pennsylvania Avenue. This we say, and have turned out decidedly the handsomest job of the kind that has yet been done in this city.—Sheboygan Times.

Messrs. Ford & Fairbanks are prepared to do work of the kind mentioned above, in the most possible manner — Their stock of paper is one of the largest in the West, and of the choicest kinds. Their samples of hangings are well worthy of a visit.

THE EXHIBITION THIS AFTERNOON.—It will be remembered, that the Milwaukee Horticultural Society give their exhibition this afternoon and evening at Athenæum Hall. Good music will be on hand to enliven the entertainment, and we anticipate a magnificent display of fruits and flowers. No doubt the beauty and fashion of our city will attend the exhibition, for the ladies always appreciate beauty (except in each other) whether in nature or art. Anderson will be there with ice-cream and other refreshments to keep the company cool.

VIEW OF WAUKESHA.—We were shown yesterday, by Mr. F. HOLLENBECK, of this city, a very neat picture of our pleasant neighboring village of Waukesha, taken for Mr. CHAPPELL, editor of the Republican. Mr. H. is a capital artist, as he has shown by this picture, and by several views of Milwaukee that he has taken from various points.

LIGHT GUARD CADETS.—There will be a meeting of this Company, held at the Armory of the Light Guard, this evening, for the purpose of completing the organization. All are invited to attend.

THE PANORAMA.—Don't forget that this week closes the exhibition of Smith's Tour of Europe, and that the admission has been reduced to one shilling for grown persons, and ten cents for children. An opportunity to see so fine a panorama may not present itself to our citizen again for years. Go and see it, by all means.

BANK NOTE LIST.—Messrs. Townsend, Bean & Burlock issue their semi-monthly Bank Note List this morning. Copies can be procured at their banking office No. 905 East Water st., under Sentinel office.

FURNITURE SALE.—Mess. WELD & BALDWIN, No. 18 Wisconsin Street, advertise $5,000 worth of beautiful household furniture, for sale at a great bargain. See their advertisement.

NEW MODE OF ADVERTISING.—Mr. HAWES, publisher of the "Western and Southern Catalogue and Stranger's Guide," will soon be in town, and will call in a day or two, for the purpose of procuring advertisements for the next edition, which will be ready for distribution about the 25th of September next.

The work will be printed in a neat and accurate form, on good paper, and well bound, containing three indexes, one for advertiser's names, one for the different cities and one for miscellaneous matter, thus giving parties a rare opportunity of getting their advertisements before the public, as each subscriber is his own circulator of the work, according to the amount advertise l.

HAIR RESTORATIVE.—The demand for this unrivalled preparation for the hair and skin is beyond the possibility of a doubt, and its sale is greater than any other Hair Restorative that has ever been before the public Tens of thousands of persons who were bald and gray, and others whose faces were covered with unsightly blotches and pimples, are now, with their own glossy hair, and with faces comely and fair to look upon, needlessly promenading the streets of all the principal cities of the Union, and by their influence spreading the fame of Wood's Hair Restorative throughout the civilized world — but the trial of one bottle is more convincing than all we could say in a whole newspaper column.

☞ It does not dye but gives life, health and beauty to the tresses, killing and dead, rotten as it is by magic that which was supposed to be irrecoverably lost. Heads nearly bald and others nearly white, are daily being changed to their pristine beauty, and faces covered with pimples are rendered as smooth as an infant's and blushing as a rose, all by the use of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative.—St Louis Commercial List. Sold by all respectable Druggists.

BANK CLOSED.—The private banking house of Messrs. Coates, Burbank & Co., or Isaac Coates & Bro., closed its doors yesterday. The bank had been extremely hard up for some time back being in fact unable to pay the demands of its depositors upon their presentation. We understand the failure of the bank was caused by the speculation of one of the firm in the South, coupled with the attempt to obtain the charter of a Georgi bank, which involved a great deal of expense and no profit.—Chicago Democrat, 11th.

The following letter, which we find in the Buffalo Commercial, will be found of interest to both shippers and insurers:

OLD ISLAND, August 4th, 1857.

DEAR SIR:—I send you, as requested, the statement compiled by me, at owning the tonnage and the grades of said vessels which suffered by disasters on the western lakes to the navigat on season of 1856.

I shows the amount lost to be $154,515 entering from 467 disasters, in a fleet of 1,088 sail vessels. A careful examination of the statements will completely vindicate the principle adopted by the Lake Underwriters at their Convention, in 1855, in increasing the rates of premium on the increased tonnage of hulls.

The disasters may be briefly summed up in this form: Aground—100 total, 78 vessels, disasters 3-, loss $45,926

" 10 @ 5 01	"	881	"	110, " 257 10c
" 20@8 0	"	294	"	140, " 4 2 4 5
" 30 @ 100	"	200	"	115, " 307 2 5
" 40@ 0	"	26	"	18, " 112 0 0
" 50@ 00	"	6	"	3, " 6 0 0
" 60@ 0	"	2	"	2, " 10 000
" 70@ 0	"	1	"	1, " 5 300
		1088		457 $1 644 015

You will not see that nearly one-half of the entire loss falls on vessels ranging from 500 to 600 tons, whilst a greater number of vessels—3 each more—ranging from 200 to 400 tons, loses only one quarter of the same aggregate. The average grade of the smaller tonnage is much below the larger, the former being proportionally in the class 5 and the latter as 1 A. The average loss to each vessel aloud, ranging from 00@200 tons, was $1,863, and to those ranging from 600@400 tons, was $6,260

These figures support the position I have advocated, that cargo rates of premium should be increased in proportion to increase of tonnage, and I think the future will show that such a change is made in the Underwriting on the Lakes, every recurrence of such weather as we had in 1856, will be followed by the same disastrous result to the treasuries of insurance companies.

To have low rates to the interests of insurance companies the larger class of vessels are, when compared with smaller tonnage, I will make a conjectural estimate on the following basis. We will suppose that Insurance Company has the entire fleet of 100@300 tons, which numbers 200 vessels, is to have the insurance on the hulls, and up and down cargoes for the value of all, is to pay all the losses and allow the fleets to run in the Buffalo and Chicago trade exclusively, to each trip down with grain, and her up trip with coal at Cleveland

Insurance Company it takes the fleet of 100@300 tons, numbering 200 vessels, on same terms.

Value of cargoes..... $73,451

Vessel of 250 tons, B, valued $7 000, at 7½ prem. 4?25

$73,49 cargo at average prem. $1,64½..... 1,205 84

The average loss on each vessel of this tonnage was..... 1,363

Profit on each vessel..... $365 94

It will occur to you that the average time for repairing disasters, is to be deducted from these six round trips, thus increasing the loss on the 200@300 tons, and diminishing the profits on the 200@300 vessels

In the column "stranded" is placed all the value of cargo jettisoned whilst the vessel was on the strand, and vessels totally lost by "at sea" and "at anchor" in the same column. You will notice that very nearly two thirds of the whole vessels totally lost are of those under 200 tons, and considered too large for easy hand ing in our lake navigation, are the majority of masters and mates incompetent seamen, or in a combination of both causes. Just based on the peace in an eight months' navigation, 193 vessels out of a fleet of 1088, making also of one million, eighty-one thousand, six hundred and fifteen dollars.

Yours truly, J. L. WEATHERLY.

Modern Democracy.

Modern "democracy" swears by Jefferson, but does not follow that departed statesman. Jefferson was especially an advocate of liberty, while modern democracy worships slavery. Jefferson appreciated the evils of slavery, but modern democracy praises that blessed institution, in word or deed. Jefferson not only wished all white men free—all men being created equal, according to his immortal Declaration—but wished that slavery could be abolished both for white and black. Modern Democracy not only does what it can to rivet the fetters of the black, and perpetuate and extend the slavery of that race, but, in this late day, dares to speak of enslaving white men.

The New York Day Book is a thoroughly "democratic" paper, differing only from its fellows in that its conductors would carry out their principles into action, and, being willing to help negro slavery, as a blessing to the country, are also willing to extend its blessings to white men. The condition of many poor white men has lately exercised the sympathies of this democratic Day Book, and its remedy for their troubles is set forth briefly in the following paragraph, taken from its columns:

Sell the parents of these children into SLAVERY. Let our Legislature pass a law that who ever will take these parents and take care of them and their OFFSPRING, in sickness and health—clothe them, feed them and house them—shall be legally entitled to their services; and let the same Legislature decree that whoever receives these parents and their CHILDREN, and obtains their services, shall take care of them AS LONG AS THEY LIVE.

Such is the humanity of this democratic press, the recipient of the patronage of the present democratic administration! Such its remedy for poverty? Sell the unfortunate, with their children, INTO SLAVERY!

Gov. Walker's Sincerity Tested.

People who read the "democratic" papers have seen therein a great many praises lavished upon Robert J. Walker, who was to crown himself with an immortal wreath by "pacificating" Kansas. As Calhoun won the title of the Nullifier, Benton of the Expunger, and Webster of the Expounder, so Walker was to go down to a grateful posterity as the Pacificator. His partizans represented his course as one of entire impartiality and especial fairness. He was to secure the people of Kansas a fair vote. To be sure, Walker acknowledged that he could not keep the people at all at the late election for the Convention, but they must submit to the Registry Law; but he assured them, 'pon honor, that the intended that they should have fair play the reafter. The Free State men took no part in that election, not being allowed to vote, by the law taken by the Registers to leave their names off the lists. The Convention met, and among its self-imposed duties was that of apportioning the Territory into Legislative Districts.

Now, here came a difficulty. If the Convention made an unfair apportionment, Walker was pledged to the eyes to veto it. If the apportionment was left entirely to Walker, his Border Ruffian friends would demand that he should forego his fairness, and he would be in a dilemma. So a brilliant stroke of Legislation was made. A bill passed providing that the Governor and Secretary should make the apportionment, but, if they failed to do it, two persons, leading Border Ruffians,—the President of the first Council and Speaker of the first House, notoriously chosen by intruding Missouri votes, were to make the apportionment!

And here Gov. Walker had the best possible opportunity to exhibit his fairness, by making a really just apportionment. But such was not the programme. As was doubtless intended beforehand, Walker neglected the business, and the two Border Ruffians made haste to perform it; and this is their way of doing it:—The Council consists of 13 members, and the House of 39. Out of the whole number of Representatives, fourteen counties have 36, and nineteen counties 3; and these nineteen counties, with one-twelfth of representation, embrace the whole territory south of the Kaw river, except five counties; and still further two-thirds of the Free State emigration of the present season has gone into the disfranchised region. To sum up the grand total of swindling, five counties on the Missouri border, Doniphan, Atchison, Leavenworth, Lykins and Linn, control both branches of the Legislature.

But this apportionment is legal—our democratic friends will say—and the Free State men must obey it—must recognize it—must come and vote under it.

Perhaps they will, but we have our doubts upon the subject.

Meanwhile, Gov. Walker, the great would-be Pacificator, has covered himself with contempt, and his wreath of immortality is nowhere.

PITY THE AFFLICTED.—It is a good maxim, and we act upon it. We had prepared an article in reply to the News' last assault upon us, but the following paragraph from yesterday's issue of that paper disarms us entirely:

WINE AND POLITICS.—A friend in St. Louis sends us a box of what he terms "Border ruffian wine," and in his note, accompanying it, says: "We are now fearing that our Democratic candidate for Governor is defeated;" and then, as if collecting that Charles Lamb said, "Damn politics, they spoil drinking," he adds: "But at all events, drink of the wine—remembering your friends and forgetting your enemies." If it will gratify our friend to know that his wishes will be most religiously respected, we bid him be of good cheer, for it is our intention to "take a glass standing" in a certain contingency, and to drink some in any event.

We foster while our cotemporary is drinking to much in its Border Ruffian wine to the memory of Pro Slavery Democracy in Missouri, and burying its dead hopes.

TRAVELLERS' DIRECTORY BY THE MILWAUKEE AND MISSISSIPPI R. R. LINE.—We have received a neat pamphlet of 16 pages, of convenient size for the pocket, just prepared for general circulation, by A. B. ELLIOTT, the general Eastern agent of the Milwaukee and Mississippi R. R. It furnishes much valuable information to travellers, and will tend materially in bringing the advantages of the route to the knowledge of eastern people, about to travel to the northwest.

Railroad Law.

The Court of Appeals, New York, has laid it down as a rule of law that an individual, on approaching a railroad track, is bound to look if a train is approaching. It holds that railroads are among the best improvements of the great age of progress, and their permanent affairs are not to be postponed to the concerns of individuals. It holds that no one has a right to cross a railroad track without first taking every precaution for safety. The same reason that holds railroad companies to the strictest responsibility to the passengers, imposes upon every one who crosses the track of these great public thoroughfares, more than ordinary care not to jeopardize the lives of those who are availing themselves of the benefit of this great modern improvement in the mode of travelling.

In a recent suit against the Illinois Central Railroad, a passenger who had not purchased a ticket offered a bill for $100 to pay his fare, amounting to $1,55. The conductor refused to exchange it, and ordered the man to leave the train. He did so, but sues for damages. The decision is to the effect that the offer of so large a bill, with the expectation of so much change, was not a legal tender of the fare; and that on his refusal to pay fare, the plaintiff was liable to removal from the train, but without unnecessary force. Nor is the conductor compelled to take the person refusing to pay, to any station, but may put him off at once, wherever the train may be.

The Supreme Court of Cuyahoga Co., Ohio, has recently decided that a passenger who loses his ticket cannot require a Railroad Company to pass him over their road without purchasing another. The ground for the decision is that the ticket being negotiable by delivery, any one picking the lost ticket could ride upon it, hence the company would be subjected to frequent impositions. In this case it was held, too, that the company have a right to make all reasonable rules and regulations for the benefit of the public and their own protection, and that the ticket agent, having sold a ticket to the plaintiff, the latter was obliged, if he rode, to give it to the conductor; if not, they had the right to eject him from the cars.

Many a time, during last winter and spring, and the present summer, have we "carefully scanned" your columns to find any allusion to our articles and paragraphs concerning the progress and condition of the Sheboygan & Mississippi Rail Road enterprise, but the scanning of a sheet of blank paper would have rewarded our search as well. And furthermore, we have heretofore alluded to this fact on two or three occasions, but the Sentinel was, to all appearances, in blissful ignorance of the fact that such a place as Sheboygan, or such a paper as the TIMES existed.

The above, with more of the same sort, is, of course, from the Sheboygan Times. We have only to say that no single item, published in the Sheboygan papers, has, we believe, escaped being transferred to our columns. We may be careless, sometimes, as to some of our exchanges, but a naturally quarrelsome and snarling fault finding cotemporary, like the Times, is always attended to. "Alluded to" it! Of course you have—in about every number; and the Sentinel has gone on as usual, making what dry picking it could from the Times.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.—The Madison Argus some time ago suggested the name of L. C. DRAPER, the present Secretary of the State Historical Society, for State School Superintendent. We should be very sorry to lose Mr. Draper from his present post, and are not at all sure that his qualifications are just what are needed for the other.

The Dodge Co. Citizen says:

We have been shown a circular sent out by Mr. Draper to the town Superintendents, in which he gives a history of his life, and assurances of his fitness for the office to which he aspires—and if we know anything about the qualifications required in a School Superintendent, we must say that by his own showing, Mr. Draper is sadly deficient. Besides, how it looks for a candidate who expects a nomination from a political party, to send circulars about the State to school officers, with a newspaper puff attached, in the hope of securing their favor!

☞ "The Republic" is the title of a new Republican paper to be started in Washington, D. C., the first part of next month. Its Editor is Mr. Weston, from Maine, assisted by Daniel R. Goodloe, of North Carolina, both able writers. The veteran Editor, F. P. Blair, heartily endorses the project and the Editors. The paper will be issued weekly and semi-weekly at first, but will probably grow into a daily.

	Acres.
Apples, bus.		175
Barley "	150	3,012
Corn "	1200	35,325
Oats "	900	38,000
Potatoes "	82	10,961
Wheat "	2,805	39,444
Butter, lbs		27,257
Cattle on hand		1,270
Hogs slaughtered		5,130
Horses on hand		333

☞ From the report of the Railroad statistics of the United States, made to Congress by the Secretary of the Treasury, it appears that the passenger business on the New Jersey Railroad is greater than that of any other road in the country, the number of passengers carried one mile being 8,88,604, or nearly one million of passengers for the whole road; while the New York Central Railroad, which comes next, averages less than 3,000,000 for every mile.

NAVIES OF FRANCE AND ENGLAND.—The Washington Union of the 5th inst. contains a carefully prepared list of the navy of France, from which we learn that it is composed of 317 sailing vessels, carrying 6,176 guns, and 220 steamers, carrying 4,901 guns—making a total of 537 vessels and 14,077 guns. According to the navy list of Great Britain for 1856, the effective force of that country was 269 sailing vessels, carrying 9,822 guns, and 258 steamers, with 4,518 guns—making a total of 527 vessels and 13,880 guns. It will thus be seen that the navy of France exceeds that of Great Britain by 10 vessels and 197 guns.

NEW YORK CANALS.—The Buffalo Commercial says that the aggregate of the tolls on the canals to the 1st of August are only $66,000 less than last year, in spite of frequent breaks, late opening, and railroad competition, and predicts that a handsome increase will be shown when the year's business is summed up.

A DISTINGUISHED CARGO.—A ship which is about to sail from England to Australia, carrying 400 convicts, takes among them Sir John Dean Paul, Strahan, and Bates the fraudulent bankers, Robson, the Crystal Palace forger, Redpath, who committed the great robbery on the Great Northern Railway, and several others of the same class of men.

☞ Port Gibson having been abandoned as a military post, the War Department has issued orders to surrender it to the Cherokee nation, in accordance with the terms of the treaty of 1836. It is the intention of the Cherokees to lay off a city on the site.

LOSSES BY FIRE AT CHICAGO.—The total amount of the losses by fire at Chicago in the year ending May 1st, 1857, was $652,000, on which was insurance to the amount of $385,100.

JAIL ROOMS TO LET.—We hear by the Sheboygan Times that the Jail in that city has been tenantless, except for the Sheriff, since the 17th of March. They speak well for the city.

SENATOR RUSK.—The Baltimore Sun has the following concerning the probable cause of the suicide of the distinguished Texan:

"It is supposed that the mind of the Senator has been much disturbed lately in consequence of some alleged connection of his brother-in-law with lotteries on the Land Department. The matter, it is surmised, preyed upon him to such an extent as to induce this terrible result."

CHEAP POSTAGE IN LONDON.—As the result of cheap postage, and still more especially of regular and frequent delivery, it is said that in the last 10 years the people of London wrote and sent by post 32,000,000 more letters than the people of the entire United States, while the population of London is less than 2,500,000, and that of the United States more than 25,000,000. And of these 930,000,000 letters posted in London, more than 490,000,000 of them were for local circulation within the bounds of London.—The people of the city of New York have not sent by post one-tenth of 400,000,000 letters in ten times ten years. The entire number of "local" or "drop" letters in the United States, in 1854, was officially reported at 715,428, or less than three quarters of a million.

SUN FLOWER PAPER.—Near Edith, S. C., a crop is about to be gathered of four acres of sunflowers. The seed will be used for oil and to feed cattle and poultry, as in the south of France; but the chief object is to obtain the fibres of the stalk for paper making. If the cultivation succeeds, it is expected to supply abundant material for fine writing and printing paper, as well as fine and course paper for hanging.

☞ The Queen of Oude has waited 9 months in England, vainly attempting to obtain an interview with Queen Victoria. Since the news of the East India mutiny, the palace doors were opened to her. The Eastern Queen was attired with a magnificence that quite eclipsed the modest costume of the Island Queen.

A BENEVOLENT OFFER.—The following is said to be an accurate copy of a private circular sent by a certain Wall street firm to parties who contemplated starting a Bank in this State. It tells its own story. If our Banking Law, or the practice of bona-fide banks, allows such operations to go on, it is time that some action was taken to stop them:

NEW YORK, no.—, Wall street, July 2, 1857.

DEAR SIR:—Understanding from some of your friends—now on a visit to this city—that you are desirous to establish a bank under the free bank law of Wisconsin, we take this opportunity to offer you our services to forward your views. Having had great experience, within the past five years, in "getting up" banks in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and even in Wisconsin, under the free banking laws of those states, we are quite sure your interests would be served by employing us to get in operation one for you.

Without wishing or designing to disparage our neighbors, (some of whom are engaged in the same business,) we would say, that to make a bank move on successfully, there is much wisdom to be displayed in its organization, which has not been displayed by those we have alluded to; for out of 48 they were instrumental in "getting up" in Indiana, 41 have failed; while of those we have got up, (27) only 14 have failed. We have made it our particular study to organize "free banks," and hence our great success; and if parties who desire to "get up" banks, will be governed by the advices we give, (in our private circulars,) there is no danger, but the projector of the bank will make money and it is to the projector's interest we only look.

It will, sir, cost you but little to get up a bank with $100,000 capital, secured by stocks. With the addition of the retaining fee, $2000, as above mentioned, about $8000 for plates and notes, and $5000 placed in our hands as a margin for the $100,000 stocks, we can manage to put it in successful operation. Yours, respectfully,

O. P. Q.

THE ROW AT CHILTON.—The aged Attorney General seems, by the account given by the Commissioners, to have borne himself like a hero at Chilton. The Madison Journal says:

Among all the conflicting accounts of the "Chilton Outrage," none contradict the first report in regard to the pugilism and prowess of the venerable Attorney General; and, it is said, that he would certainly have exterminated his Milesian antagonist had not one of the clerks, anxious to prevent the effusion of naval claret, and regardless of the danger of coming within the wind of such commotion," rushed up behind the gallant veteran just as he was about dealing one of his jolliest right-handers, seized him around the waist, dexterously throwing him across his shoulders, and, as Ajaxes did from the flames of Troy the old Anchises bear, hurried him, indignantly kicking, sprawling and remonstrating, against the proceeding, away from the conflict.

Profits of Western Farming.

As an instance of the way in which our Western farmers make those rapid fortunes which are the astonishment and envy of their less fortunate brethren of the Eastern States, we give the following brief history of the fortunes of WM. F. PORTER, Esq., of this county. Mr. P. purchased, about one year since, six hundred acres of land, lying within five miles of this city. One hundred and fifty acres thereof are under cultivation this year. Four acres of vegetables, for the city market, will, it is estimated, pay all the expenses of the farm for this year; forty acres of oats will yield him at least 1500 bushels. At 38 per bushel, - - - - $4,500
Wheat, barley, oats, potatoes, &c., - 4,500

Total nett profits, - - $9,000

These estimates are probably low, as they are based upon the amounts offered for his crops as they stand, unharvested and untouched.

Mr. P. intends to put at least half the whole farm under cultivation next season, when, of course, his profits, if the season be a favorable one, will be at least doubled. His farm buildings are as good as any to be found in the State, and when a few years more have passed away he will be prepared to nett a large profit for rent, &c., which requires time to repay the labor of the husbandman.

Mr. P. is a model farmer, not a weed being visible upon his improved lands, and all his fields, fences, farming implements and buildings being as neat as intelligent labor and care can keep them. He is from Boston, Mass., originally, and brings with him a large share of that thrift, intelligence and enterprise which is the boast of New England.

In addition to his profits for farming, his lands have increased nearly or quite one hundred per cent, in value since he purchased them, less than eighteen months ago. This is the way we make fortunes out West!—Madison Journal.

☞ Two years ago our State government was but partially renovated, and that was done through the interference of the courts, and by a successful exposition of the enormous frauds which were perpetrated upon the people by democrats who had been in power until their corruptions had begun to be a by-word. This fall we desire to see the whole party "cleaned out" by at least 15 000 majority, and it can be done with a good Republican ticket and a re-iteration of the principles of that party, if work and ORGANIZATION follow closely upon the convention. The pro-slavery party will work to preserve their very existence, and by all the slanders they can invent, will seek to drive the people into the support of their nominees. They will, also, as they do now, labor to get up divisions and dissensions in the Republican party, better to carry out their ends. All these efforts will, however, prove unavailing, if the Republicans act as they have acted heretofore—everything for PRINCIPLES.

To commence the campaign we hope to see all the primary conventions well attended by the Farmers and Mechanics—those who are so deeply interested in our success.—La Crosse Rep.

THE HARVEST.—It does one's soul good to ride through the country, and see the noble fields of golden grain that meet his eyes on every turn. "Never before has the crop been better," is the universal cry, and better times and more money, is the general expectation. In this country, we are now in the very midst of the harvest. The weather has been a little fickle, but nevertheless has been tolerably favorable—though we notice that some wheat is badly lodged. But the quantity is small, and we think that nearly or quite all the crop will be secured in a good condition. Oats is ripening fast, and some of it has already been gathered. The barley crop is nearly all secured, and is unusually large and fine.—The hay crop is unusually heavy. Corn, though a little backward, is rapidly gaining ground.—We think there will be more than an average crop. Potatoes promise a large yield and a healthy one, though a little rain after harvest would help them materially.—Dodge Co. Citizen.

CROPS.—The wheat crop in this county, is probably much better than ever before harvested. In the openings, some fields will come in rather light, but on the prairie it is decidedly good—corn will be a very fair crop—oats are also very good, and potatoes—except they were very early—will be a heavy yield. The hay crop is not as good as it was last year, but the farmers are mowing over more ground. We say to them cut all the hay you can.—Portage City Record.

CONTRACT FOR THE CENTRAL EDIFICE OF THE STATE UNIVERSITY.—The contract for building the Central Edifice of the State University has been awarded to JAMES CAMPBELL, Esq., of this city. It is to cost $36,550, and to be completed before the 1st of October, 1858.—Madison Journal.

Sir Colin Campbell.

The following capital sketch of the military life of this brave old soldier, who has been sent out to save India for England, is from the New York Times:

He has been fifty years in the army, and has served in all quarters of the globe. So long ago as 1808 he was one of the forlorn hope at the storming of Badajos in the Peninsular War—an enterprise in which success was won by the loss of two thousand men out of the five thousand of which the storming party was composed, and all this in a breach not more than twenty feet wide. India, China, Australia, have all been, since Waterloo, the scene of services which place him among the first soldiers of the age. At Alma he led the Highlanders against the terraced batteries by which the slopes were lined, with a vigor which would have been admirable in a man of thirty, and was astonishing in a veteran of seventy. Dismounting from his horse, he put himself at the head of the brigade, sword in hand, in true highland fashion, took off his cap and waved on his men to the assault, shouting out in a way that revived a thousand memories of the old glories of the clans, "Follow, me my lads! None but Highland bonnets here!" and climbed the heights amidst a rain of shot, and entered the batteries with a rush. At Inkermann he was not actually engaged, owing to the fact that he was performing the important duty which he was left to discharge during the remainder of the winter, of protecting the town of Balaklava from all attacks on the side of Baidar, such as that of Gen. Liprandi on the 26th of October.

On that morning he performed, without of the Highland Regiments, an exploit which almost rivaled the charge of the Six Hundred, and which, it was said, at least proved the pluck of the man, no less than the confidence of the General. He received the first charge of the Russian cavalry—made before the Scots Greys had had time even to saddle their horses—in line, without even attempting to form a square, and repulsed them by three volleys, before they had approached within three hundred yards. Had the manœuvre not succeeded, he would, in all probability, have been tried by Court-martial for breach of the regulations; as it was he was gravely censured; but its own success in coolness is one of the tests of genius.

At the last assault on Sebastopol, after the attack on the Redan on the morning of the 8th of September had failed, his division was mustered to repeat the attempt at daylight on the following morning. It was composed of the flower of the British army, of the veteran troops who had marched up the slopes of the Alma—"comme des marailles rouges," as ST. ARNAUD remarked—but was by their position at Balaklava had escaped most of the Winter hardships. The retreat of the Russians during the night deprived them of the glory of the trial, and, in all likelihood, saved Sir COLIN CAMPBELL for a more important duty. A month afterwards he assembled his division in a hollow square on the heights of Camara, rode into the centre and took a last farewell of them, and, as he then thought, of active service, in a simple and manly speech, which moved two-thirds of the men to tears. His fifty years of battle and storm were closed, and they and he, he said, would march and fight no more together. The reminder of his life he intended to spend in retirement, and the next trumpet which should rouse him would be the last that would ever sound.

His promised repose has been rudely broken in upon.

A Prize Fight Stopped, and Nineteen Rowdies Arrested; A Sharp Battle.

About 11 o'clock Saturday night Sergeant Coulter, Acting Inspector of the Twenty-second Ward Police, received notice that a prize fight was to come off in the upper part of the city about daylight—the party giving the information being unable to state any particulars of the locality of the anticipated brutal exhibition.

In order to prevent the consummation of the disgraceful affair, Sergeant Coulter sent his reserve force out for the purpose of watching the movements of the parties. He also sent for reinforcements from the Nineteenth and Twentieth Precincts, and held the men in readiness to make a descent upon the rowdies at a moment's warning. About 2 o'clock yesterday morning some of the reserve, who were watching along the Bloomingdale Road, conveyed word to the Station House that large numbers of persons were making their way to Lowe's Woods, a small patch of wood on the Eleventh avenue near Sixty-fifth street. Several of the men were again sent out to reconnoitre, and ordered to join with the crowd and watch their movements. A few minutes before 3 o'clock the scouts returned with the information that the pugilists and their friends were on the ground, and that the ring was being built.

Sergeant Coulter at this time collected his force and at their head quietly marched toward the spot, arriving within a few yards of the crowd before the presence of the police became known. A charge was now made upon the ruffianly assemblage, which numbered between five and six hundred, the police moving on in steady and unbroken column, and behaving nobly throughout the action. The greater part of the crowd was soon routed, but a large number turned and commenced an attack upon the police.—Among the foremost of these was Daniel Fallon, a policeman of the Twentieth Ward under the regime of Mayor Wood. Fallon seemed to be the ringleader of the resistants, and cried out to his friends to come and "kill the d—d Black Republican police of——."

After a hard fight of nearly half an hour's duration the police gained the field, and succeeded in capturing nineteen of the party, whom they conveyed to the Station-House and consigned to the cells.—N. Y. Tribune.

A SCENE IN PARLIAMENT.—An English paper gives a lively description of the scene in Parliament when the attempt to repeal the Jewish Disability Bill was defeated. In the House there was decent gravity on all sides. In the strangers' gallery, however, there might have been heard curses, not loud, but deep; and dark eyes flashed, and swarthy complexions grew darker; while vehement gesture and angry rapidity of movement made the exit from the House rather dangerous to the less interested and less excited spectators in whose power it is to take any oath of any kind at the table of either House of Parliament. The tears stood in Alderman Solomon's eyes when he heard the result; but Baron Rothschild perceived that imperturbility of countenance which seems natural to him. When the news was communicated to Lord Palmerston, he was sitting with his arms folded and his legs stretched out under the table, and he did not alter his position in the least; a slight nod was all the notice he vouchsafed when he heard that his only great measure of the session had received its quietus. Lord John Russell must have had a negative triumph, for one of the objects of his life was again within his grasp, and he has lost no time in showing that he has not done with it, even for this year.

THE PEARL MANIA IN CONNECTICUT.—THE WOODEN CLOCK STATE AHEAD.—New Jersey, Massachusetts and other States boast of their success in Pearl fishing. We beg them to understand, together with the rest of mankind, that Connecticut desires to be heard in this matter.—She, too, is a successful fisher of pearls; none of your small fry, but the large size brilliants.—Mr. Lewis R. Barnes, of East Berlin, has in his possession three pearls which he found in a mineral stream near his residence, a short time since. The most valuable one he brought to the city on Saturday for the purpose of showing it to his friends and ascertaining its value. He says that he has refused $200 for it, and that it has been variously estimated at from $200 to $300. It is an uncommonly fine specimen, as large as a good sized pea, perfectly round and smooth, in fact it is a perfect beauty. Mr. Barnes keeps his own secret as to the stream where he found the clams which contained the pearls.—Hartford Courant, Aug. 4

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS AS TO POST MARKS.—We notice that the postmark on letters mailed at the post office at Newport, bear the date of the year as well as of the month. This is a convenient, and may often prove a valuable identification. A post mark often becomes important legal evidence; and for this reason it is best that business letters should be folded in the old fashioned way, and not enclosed in envelopes; so that the postmark may be upon the letter itself, and show that it was mailed at the time that it purported to be.—N. Y. Mirror.

FROM MEXICO.—Our files from Mexico City, dated on the 15th of July, contain some additional news items, which we publish this morning. There was no doubt of Gen. Comonfort's re-election to the Presidential chair. The voting in the district of the city of Mexico was largely in his favor over many candidates. The best spirit prevails with respect to resisting an invasion on the part of Spain. The monthly exports of gold and silver were very large. General Negrete had defeated the insurgents under Vicairo.

BUILDING AT RACINE.—Never since the first settlement has there been more building going on in Racine than at the present time. Several building firms have told us that they have more work engaged than they can possibly attend to. This state of things must be gratifying to every one, and shows conclusively the rapid strides which our city is making in its onward march.—Journal.

☞ Mrs. Cunningham continues to be much grieved at the inhuman treatment alleged to have been received. She wept much this morning, exclaiming: "They've got Harvey's dear little pet of a daughter, and will not bring her back." Sad, very—and they were preparing the documents this morning to send the mother of this delusion to the Tombs.—N. Y. Mirror.

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT, AUGUST 12.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

5 Drunk, drunk, (21 offence,) fined $2.

Nicholas Reed was arrested for drunkenness, and when asked what he said to the charge of being drunk, his reply was, "Shure and its myself that don't, no sir, whether I was drunk or no," from which it was to be inferred that Nicholas had taken on large too much of the creature." He was fined $1.00

Timothy Driscoll, indulging in a like manner, for which he was also fined $1.00.

LARCENY.—A hired girl named Johanna Walsh, was brought up on a charge of larceny in the dwelling of her employer in the 7th ward, and recognized in $250 bail, till further examination.

SCALING A PICTURE.—Ernst Rese, was examined on a charge of stealing a picture, of the value of one dollar, from a man named Nicolleth, and found guilty. Rese said he was going along Huron street, in company with another man and his wife, and that this man took the picture from a nail on which it was hanging, and gave it to him to hide. This man's wife, however, swore that her husband did not take the picture. In either case Rese would be guilty of larceny, but as he was quite a young man, and of previous good character, Justice Walworth, instead of sending him before the Grand Jury as is usual in such cases, fined him $10.00 and costs.

COUNTERFEITERS.—A GANG IN THE CITY.—ONE OF THE RASCALS CAUGHT.—SEVERAL OF THE BIRDS FLOWN.—For several days past, it was suspected that a gang of counterfeiters had taken up their abode in this city, to dispose of a pile of their illegitimate bills, and some of the fruits of their operations had already come to light, in the shape of counterfeit bills on the Waynesburg Bank, Penn.

One of them, it seems, went into the clothing store of Messrs. Bremer, Pfeffer & Co., on the day evening, to buy a coat, and offered in payment one of those $20 counterfeit bills, which the clerk immediately detected as being such, and having heard that offers of the same kind had been passed the day previous, he "smelt a rat," and sent, or pretended to send, another clerk into the next door store to enquire whether the bill was good, but in reality he sent for a policeman, who took the fellow to the watch house. At precisely, or very nearly the same time, another of the gang went into another clothing store and offered a $20 counterfeit upon the same bank, in payment also for a coat which he bought, but owing to the contemptible cupidity of the store-keeper the villain escaped. The price of the coat which he bought amounted to seven dollars, we believe, and he laid the clothier, who had expressed his suspicions of the bill offered, that he would pay him the amount in good money if he would send his clerk with him to the Louis House, where he said he was stopping. Upon getting there he told the clerk he would bring the money to the store as soon as a friend of his came in, whom he said was also stopping there. The clerk then went back to the store, taking the coat with him, and of course the rascal fled.—The police just then got wind of this matter, but the thief was not at liberty.

The one arrested gave his name as John Belden, and he was recognized by the clerk of the Louis House as the same whom he had seen in company with the other fellow in the lackeying of the house during the day, but neither of them had eaten or slept there. As these fellows had but one bill each, it is quite evident that there was another, or others connected with them, who, no doubt, kept the "pile," while they did the financiering.—As the measures have been taken by the police to ferret out their whereabouts, and it is to be hoped that the defrauders may be brought to justice.

REMOVAL.—The Commercial Insurance Company have removed their office from Martin's Block to the new State Bank Building, on Michigan street. The new office is situated on the first floor, in the east side of the building, directly opposite the apartment used by the State Bank. It is a handsome, spacious and convenient office, as all the rooms in this elegant building are, and is furnished in a manner which displays great taste, both as to beauty and utility. The office is divided into two apartments, separated by folding doors, the front one being the business office, and the other the President's office.

The floors of both are covered with a rich carpet from the ware-rooms of Bradford brothers, and the furniture, consisting of some of the best finished oak desks, chairs and a handsome lounge, is from the establishment of J. F. Burchard, on Spring street. The gas fixtures are on a par with the furniture, and were put up by Messrs. M. G. Elmore & Co.

One of Berliner & Brunn's elegant safes is a feature in the office which nobody will overlook, and upon the whole we think this office equal for convenience to any in the city.

THE BLACK SWAN.—The concert of Miss E. T. GAENSELEN, at the Albany, last night, was highly successful. A large and appreciative audience attended, who expressed their admiration of this wonderful songstress, by the most unbounded applause, and as Miss. Greenfield was to give but one concert in this city, they seemed determined to make that as long as possible by calling upon her at the conclusion of nearly every song, and she of course responded most gracefully, thus making her concert about twice as long as advertised.

We never heard the "Black Swan" before, but have heard a great deal about her, and we are now fully satisfied that she richly merits all that has been said in her praise. She possesses a wonderful voice—sweet, clear and remarkably flexible, and she enters into the spirit of the compositions which she renders in a manner which shows that she fully understands the design of the authors. She is, beyond doubt a most extraordinary songstress, and notwithstanding her color a very queen upon the stage. Prof. G. H. Lawrence, pianist, did his part remarkably well

REAL ESTATE COMING UP.—THE RIVER!—The river yesterday presented more the appearance of a sluggish meadow of overgrown wild grass than a navigable stream. About twenty acres of the Menomonee marsh has broken loose within the past week, and floated up the river. It was impossible yesterday afternoon for vessels to pass either through the Menomonee or the Spring street bridge. The marsh now looks like a clear lake, and the river like a huge marsh.

P. S.—It is rumored that Caleb Wall intends applying to the Common Council to accept a subdivision which he is about laying out south of Spring street bridge, where the river used to be!

BEAUTIFUL PAPER HANGINGS.—Mr. Samuel Patrick is the employ of Ford & Fairbanks, booksellers, stationers and dealers in Paper Hangings, Milwaukee, has been papering the walls of the new rooms for the bank of Sheboygan, corner of Eighth street and Pennsylvania Avenue, this week, and has turned out decidedly the handsomest job of the kind that has yet been done in this city.—Sheboygan Times.

Messrs. Ford & Fairbanks are prepared to do work of the kind mentioned above, in the best possible manner.—Their stock of paper is one of the largest in the West, and of the choicest kinds. Their samples of hangings are well worthy of a visit.

THE EXHIBITION THIS AFTERNOON.—It will be remembered, that the Milwaukee Horticultural Society give their exhibition this afternoon and evening at Albany Hall. Good music will be on hand to enliven the entertainment, and we anticipate a magnificent display of fruits and flowers. No doubt the beauty and fashion of our city will attend the exhibition, for the ladies always appreciate beauty (except in each other) whether in nature or art. Anderson will be there with ice-cream and other refreshments to keep the company cool.

VIEW OF WAUKESHA.—We were shown yesterday, by Mr. F. HOLBROOKER, of this city, a very neat picture of our pleasant neighboring village of Waukesha, taken for Mr. CHAPMAN, editor of the Republican. Mr. H. is a capital artist, as he has shown by this picture, and by several views of Milwaukee that he has taken from various points.

LIGHT GUARD CADETS.—There will be a meeting of this Company, held at the Armory of the Light Guard, this evening, for the purpose of completing the organization. All are invited to attend.

THE PANORAMA.—Don't forget that this week closes the exhibition of Smith's Tour of Europe, and that the admission has been reduced to one shilling for grown persons, and ten cents for children. An opportunity to see so fine a panorama may not present itself to our citizen tagain for years. Go and see it, by all means.

BANK NOTE LIST.—Messrs. Townsend, Bean & Burlock issue their semi-monthly Bank Note List this morning. Copies can be procured at their banking office No. 205 East Water st., under Sentinel office.

FURNITURE SALE.—Messrs. WELD & BALDWIN, No 18 Wisconsin Street, advertise $3,000 worth of beautiful household furniture, for sale at a great bargain. See their advertisement.

REAL ESTATE SALES YESTERDAY.—Mr. J. S. FILLMORE, Land and Collecting Agent, No. 246 East Water Street, reports the following registered sales of real estate:

NEW MODE OF ADVERTISING.—Mr. HAWES, publisher of the "Western and Southern Catalogue and Stranger's Guide," will soon be in town, and will call in a day or two, for the purpose of procuring advertisements for the next edition, which will be ready for distribution about the 25th of September next.

The work will be printed in a neat and accurate form, on good paper, and well bound, containing three indexes, one for advertiser's names, one for the different cities and one for miscellaneous matter, thus giving patrons a rare opportunity of getting their advertisements before the public, as each subscriber is his own circulator of the work, according to the amount advertised.

HAIR RESTORATIVE.—The demand for this unrivalled preparation for the hair and skin is beyond the possibility of a doubt, and its sale is greater than any other Hair Restorative that has ever been before the public. Tens of thousands of persons who were bald and gray, and others whose faces were covered with unsightly blotches and pimples, are now, with their own glossy hair, and with faces comely and fair to look upon, seen daily promenading the streets of all the principal cities of the Union, and by their influence spreading the fame of Wood's Hair Restorative throughout the civilized world. But the trial of one bottle is more convincing than all we could say in a whole newspaper column.

☞ It does not follow that gray will be found beauty and beauty to the decaying, falling and dead, restoration will by magic that which was supposed to be irrecoverably lost. Heads nearly bald and others nearly worn, are daily being changed to their pristine beauty, and faces covered with pimples are rendered as smooth as an infant's and blushing as a rose, all by the use of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative.—St. Louis Commercial Law. Sold by all reputable Druggists.

BANK CLOSED.—The private banking house of Messrs. Gratiot Duvenforth & Co., of Lasalle, closed its doors yesterday. The bank had been extensively hard up for some time back being in fact unable to pay the checks of its depositors upon it on presentation. Unwonted demand for the closing at the banks caused by suspension of one of the firm in the South, coupled with the attempt to obtain the charter of a Georgia bank, which entailed a great deal of expense and no profit.—Chicago Democrat, 11 th.

BANK CLOSED.—The private banking house of Messrs. Gratiot Duvenforth & Co., of Lasalle, closed its doors yesterday. The bank had been extensively hard up for some time back being in fact unable to pay the checks of its depositors upon it on presentation. Unwonted demand for the closing at the banks caused by suspension of one of the firm in the South, coupled with the attempt to obtain the charter of a Georgia bank, which entailed a great deal of expense and no profit.—Chicago Democrat, 11 th.
